

SOUTH PARIS.

State Treasurer W. L. Bonney of Bowdoinham was in town Friday.

The Success Club will be entertained at Mrs. Stanley M. Wheeler's Monday, Dec. 22.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Bryant of Bryant's Pond were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Dunham.

The Oxford Class meets Saturday afternoon with Mrs. A. E. Forbes. A good attendance is asked for.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harold Neal, who have been in New Hampshire and Boston about two weeks, returned home Friday.

The Ladies of the Farm Bureau will meet at George Hall on Wednesday, the 23rd, at 10:30. All are most cordially invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene P. Lowell have moved into one of the new bungalows built by the Paris Manufacturing Co. on White Street.

The Night Ladies' Aid will meet with the Walter Dunsen, Park Street, Thursday afternoon, Dec. 18. A large attendance is desired.

Dr. C. T. Pratt, osteopath, who has been in town for some time, has moved to Portland, where he will continue practice.

Mrs. Alice J. Quimby, president of the State W. C. T. U., is visiting especially to see her mother, Mrs. J. H. Quimby, at the high school on Tuesday evening of this week.

Notwithstanding that this is a busy season, everybody has something to say about the local matters going on.

In the entertainment line this is a busy week. The Imperial Minstrels hold their annual Christmas party at the high school on Friday, with the comedy, "When a Fellow Needs a Friend," at the school hall on the evening.

South Paris has organized a town team for basketball during the past week, and a basketball league is being formed.

There were some very aristocratic passages on the Portland-bound train Thursday forenoon. It might seem peculiar that they ride in the baggage car, but they explained that they were several pairs of black foxes, in crates, which were being shipped from the fox farm at Scarborough, N. H.

Charles R. Dunham, who is so very ill, had a birthday Friday. His friends and neighbors "aid" it with flowers.

He had a shower of birthday cards from friends. A box of fruit and a box of dates and figs, money and books, with many others, made a pleasant day for him.

On the season when dealers in the products of the Paris Manufacturing Co. and the Mason Manufacturing Co. send out S. O. S. calls for these goods to be sent to the west side of High Street, on one of the H. N. Porter lots, is a very attractive modern bungalow. It was completed some time ago, and Mr. Dunsen and his family have since been occupying it.

On account of the illness of Rev. J. L. Wilson, there were no services at the Baptist church on Sunday. Mr. Wilson is suffering from the same malady which has attacked many of the adults of the community, and which is so prevalent that it seems something like an epidemic.

Symptoms of cold and fever are attended in some cases by stomach disorders, and in some cases by prolonged and persistent fevers.

In the big breeze a few days ago, a newspaper or a big flyer rose and fell and ended in the eddies of wind in the Square, now here, now there, but all the time within a few rods of the corner.

Finally, after the air had been ornamental in that way for an hour or so, a woman who was passing along the sidewalk went out in the street and picked up the paper, and tucked it into a pile of rubbish parked beside the curb.

That was an act of public spirit, slight in itself, but one which many of us do not take the time to do when we have the opportunity.

Smoking is strictly forbidden at the H. N. Porter Academy, and two students have been expelled within the past few weeks for infraction of the rule.

George A. Wilson, Jr.

After an illness of about two weeks, George A. Wilson, Jr., died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Walter Dunsen, on Saturday morning, Dec. 13, at 10:30.

Mr. Wilson was born in South Paris, Oct. 12, 1871, the son of the late Judge George A. and Annie Blake Wilson. He graduated from Hebron Academy in 1894, and from Colby College in 1898.

For a large part of his life he was a resident of Houlton.

In the world war he held a commission as lieutenant in the motor transport division of the Service of Supply, and while in France in that position he worked far beyond his strength, so that when he came back to this country he was near being a nervous wreck.

For several months he was kept in bed in a government hospital in Washington. Later he received the benefit of the rehabilitation service, and was set to work to learn the jeweler's trade with a jeweler in Houlton, and he was in the last month of that service when he was taken ill.

He married Miss Anna Palmer of Houlton, and they have two sons, George A., 34, 15 years of age, and Palmer, 13. Mrs. Wilson has been here with him during his illness.

He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Walter Dunsen, and by some cousins.

The funeral was from Mr. Gray's home at 1:30 Monday, attended by Rev. Fred Bannister, and burial will be in the family lot in Riverside Cemetery.

Association Hall was the scene of a rather unusual kind of entertainment Friday evening, in the concert by Miss Elizabeth Spencer, soprano, and Miss Lucille Spencer, pianist and violinist.

It is to be admitted, or stated, that it was an advertising proposition, given by the makers of Edison photographs, and arranged for by W. J. Wheeler & Co., the local agents for the Edison Co. Still, advertising or not, it was interesting and successful.

In the first exhibit, a record made by Miss Spencer was run on a phonograph, and Miss Spencer, standing beside the instrument, sang in unison with it, gauging the volume of tone carefully with that of the phonograph.

At times she would stop singing for some measure, and those who were watching her lips would understand that the record alone was to be heard reproducing the song.

In one of her selections the lights were turned off in the middle of it, and few in the audience could tell after that whether Miss Spencer was singing or not. Indeed, just as the song ended the lights were put on, and it was discovered that Miss Spencer was not on the stage at all, but had gone into the wings.

The audience were evidently surprised and amused by the situation.

Another thing Miss Spencer did was to sing a duet with herself, using a solo record of her own voice, and singing the other part along with it.

Miss Collette played the accompaniment on the hall piano to a violin solo on a record, and later played violin solos, accompanied by piano records made by herself.

This method is taken by the Edison people to back up their claim that the music is actually "re-created."

The closing numbers of the program were vocal and piano solos, without the use of records.

Charles A. Priddy.

As the result of heart failure, Charles A. Priddy died very suddenly at his home in Norway Friday morning. He had not been very well of late, but on that morning said that he felt better than he had for some time, and he went out to his regular work, and a few minutes later Mrs. Andrews went to the barn and found him on the floor, dead.

Mr. Priddy was born in Waterford, May 30, 1858, the son of David G. and Martha Priddy. In 1876 he married Miss Rosa A. Priddy of Albany, and they came to Norway to make their home. At first they lived at the south end of the village, but later built a home on Cottage Street, where they afterwards lived. Mr. Priddy carried on a small farm and garden, and made a specialty of vegetables and flowers.

He was a member of Norway Lodge, I. O. O. F.

Mrs. Priddy died in 1918, and since that time Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Andrews have lived with him.

Two brothers and two sisters survive him. Living Priddy of Norway, Clarence Priddy of Waterford, Mrs. Horace Mixon of Norway and Mrs. George Hilson of Waterford.

Astraphs will race the sun on the 24th of January. Perhaps that may be a rather misleading statement. To put it clearly, there is an eclipse of the sun on that day, and the path of totality crosses the country a little south of New England. In the interest of science it is desirable to secure as many photographs of the corona as possible while the sun is visible. The duration of the totality is only about two minutes. By taking photographs from an airplane flying as fast as possible in the direction the moon's shadow is traveling, the time of the totality may be extended a little beyond the approximately two minutes. Just how much it can be extended we are not told, but it could not be more than a very few seconds at most.

One Bath man was listening in on his radio the other night when a band played "The Star Spangled Banner." His wife was asleep on a couch in the same room, and he did not stand any better in her from sleep and told her she must stand up while the band played the national anthem. He says he did it for a joke, but his spouse did not consider it one.

NORWAY.

In the Norway Municipal Court Thursday, William Stover was bound over on the charge of larceny of sixty dollars at the house of Benjamin Richardson on Whitman Street. Stover was taken in his usual condition. About noon Wednesday evening, just as he stepped off the train, by Sheriff William O. Frothingham, on which he bought a suit of clothes and other complete outfit from up to top, a suit case, and a number of other things, some of which were intended for gifts. He had four dollars on his person. He could not furnish bail and was committed to jail.

At its meeting Wednesday evening, William Henry Stone Post, American Legion, entertained guests from South Paris, Oxford and Rumford. A supper was served, and later in the evening there was a social session. Officers of William Henry Stone Post and of Arthur S. Foster Post of South Paris were in attendance. Executive committee members for Oxford County, as follows:
